Why Global Mobility Matters in Today's Career Landscape

In a world where companies like McKinsey, Amazon, and JP Morgan hire globally, geography should not limit ambition. Global mobility allows you to:

- Access higher salaries.
- Gain multicultural exposure.
- Build resilience and adaptability.

REFLECTION

Why do you want a global career—money, exposure, family relocation, or impact?

STEP 1

Defining Your Global Career Vision

Without clarity, international moves feel random. Define:

- Destination industries: Consulting in UK, Finance in US, Tech in Canada.
- Timeline: Short-term assignment vs permanent move.
- Family fit: Schooling, culture, cost of living.

EXERCISE

Write your 5-year international career vision.

STEP 2

Identifying Target Geographies

Each geography has unique pros/cons:

- US: Highest salaries, competitive visas (H-1B).
- UK/EU: Easier work permits, strong consulting/finance.
- Middle East: Tax-free income, high expat population.
- Asia-Pacific (Singapore, HK): Finance + tech hubs.

EXERCISE

List 2 countries aligned with your career + lifestyle goals.

| Country | Career fit | Lifestyle fit |
|---|---|---|
| | | |
| | | |

STEP 3

Researching Visa Pathways & Immigration Rules

Visa is the gatekeeper.

- US: H-1B, L-1, O-1.
- UK: Skilled Worker visa.
- Canada: PR via Express Entry.
- Germany: Blue Card.
- Middle East: Employer sponsorship.

CHECK BEFORE YOU PLAN

Visa and immigration rules change often. Confirm the current requirements on the official government website for each country.

EXERCISE

Research 1 visa for your target country and note eligibility.

STEP 4

Building Global Skills & Certifications

Global employers prefer portable skills:

- Consulting: MBA, CFA, PMP.
- Finance: ACA, CPA, CFA.
- Tech: AWS, Azure, Google Cloud, Data Analytics.

EXERCISE

Write 1 certification you'll pursue this year for global relevance.

STEP 5

Networking Internationally

Your international break often comes through networks.

- LinkedIn outreach to alumni abroad.
- Join professional associations (CFA, PMI, ISACA).
- Attend global conferences virtually.

EXERCISE

Send 1 LinkedIn message to an alum in your target geography.

STEP 6

Crafting a Globally Relevant Resume & LinkedIn

Global resumes differ:

- US/UK: 1-page, impact-focused, no photo.
- EU: 2-page accepted, photo optional.
- Middle East: Detailed, include nationality.

EXERCISE

Rewrite 1 resume bullet in globally relevant format.

STEP 7

Preparing for Cross-Cultural Interviews

Cultural nuances matter:

- US: Confident, self-promoting style.
- UK: Polished but understated.
- Asia: Respectful, team-oriented.

EXERCISE

Practice “Tell me about yourself” in 2 different cultural styles.

STEP 8

Relocation & Settling Abroad

Beyond job offer, success requires planning:

- Budget: Salary vs cost of living.
- Housing: Rentals, deposits.
- Culture: Adapt to food, language, etiquette.
- Taxes: Dual tax treaties.

CHECKLIST

List top 3 relocation worries you’d have.

STEP 9

Thriving in Global Teams & Remote Work

Multicultural teams bring innovation—but also friction. Success requires:

- Clear communication.
- Cultural sensitivity.
- Time zone management.

EXERCISE

Write 1 strategy to manage collaboration with teams across 3 time zones.

EXAMPLE

From India to a UK consulting role

An illustrative example. Names and details are representative, not real clients.

Ananya, a business school graduate in India, targeted consulting roles in the UK. She prepared cases with London-based alumni, rewrote her resume in UK style, and joined a firm that sponsored her Skilled Worker visa.

EXAMPLE

From Brazil to a US product role

An illustrative example. Names and details are representative, not real clients.

Lucas from Brazil did an MBA in the US. He networked with recruiters at tech companies, showcased his international projects, and secured a product manager role with H-1B sponsorship.

> LESSON
> Global careers = skill + visa strategy + networking.

Pitfalls and Your 90-Day Plan

Pitfalls: Assuming degree = job, ignoring visas, weak networks.

Fix: Plan 12–18 months ahead.

Your plan

| When | Focus | My actions |
|---|---|---|
| Weeks 1–4 | Define vision + shortlist countries. | |
| Weeks 5–8 | Research visas + upskill. | |
| Weeks 9–12 | Networking + resume tailoring. | |
